"Miss Satan" is the unusual name of the play which will be presented by the Dramatic Club of the University of Virginia, in the Academy of Music on the evening of January 21st, for the benefit of the Richmond Light Infantry Blues and the University Hospital, two things that will insure to the performance the distinction of its being a leading event socially.

A novel and attractive feature of the evening will be the "debutante row" to be occupied by this season's society "buds," the guests of the boys from the University and the Blues. An entire row of seats will be given up to the debutantes and their escorts, who will be the "observed of all observers." the while evening gowns of the "buds" dividing honors with the uniformed soldier boys and the costumes of the "stage girls" from the dear old U. Va.

The cast is said to be composed entirely of men, who have former experience on the stage, such as Mr. S. T. Caves, who was the star of last year's percence on the stage, such as Mr. S. T. Caves, who was the star of last year's percence on the stage, such as Mr. Torchiana, who will be remembered as one for the cast in the performance given here by the Mask and Wig Club, of the University of Pennsylvania. Mr. Torchiana takes the part of Mrs. Hummingtop, whom In the men in the play consider very attractive.

Others of the cast are Mr. Heneberger, of Harrisonburg, Va., who is an actor of several years' experience.

Mr. N. L. South is from Lexington, Ky. His preparation for the stage was made in Boston, where he studied not only the histrionic art, but was also a graduate of the Boston Conservatory of Music.

Mr. George Zinn is from Montpolier, the home of Madison. He takes the part of Barbara, a maid, but is better known as the end on the foot-ball team, which Barbara, a maid, but is better known as the end on the foot-ball team.

won over all except the Carolina boys. He is described as "very luscious looking" in the press notices from Charlottesville.

Mr. W. Gaunt is from Louisville, Ky., and at home has had much experience in amateur theatricals. He is also a member of the base-ball team.

Mr. E. Price's home is in Charleston, W. Va. His first experience on the stage was in his native town, but the experience whilch probably rounded him into an actor was gained at Washington and Lee University, where he studied before coming to the University of Virginia.

Mr. Charlie McVeigh is a Richmond boy and needs no introduction to a Richmond public. The fact that he is in the play will lend more interest to the show, as it will give the performance a local tings.

Mr. James Pasco is the son of Senator Pasco, of Florida, and is well known in Richmond as he has visited here while attending college at Hampden-Sidney. He is pronounced by College Topics, to be the best actor in the cast, and the papers generally, speak of him as being the equal of high-class professionals and much superior to the average "support," which travel with the professional shows.

Coldest Known Liquid.

Liquid hydrogen is by far the coldest fluid known at the present time. At ordinary atmospheric present time. At ordinary atmospheric pressure it bolis at .422 degrees tahrenheit and reduction of the pressure by an air pump brings the temperature down to .432 degrees, at witch the liquid becomes a solid, resembling frozen foam.

According to Professir Dewar, to whom the credit is due for having liquefied hydrogen in 1893, the liquid is a colorless, transparent body, and is the lightest in quid known to exist, its density being only one-fourteenth that of water; the lightest liquid previously known was liquid march gas, which is six times heavier. The only solid which has so small density as to float upon its surface is a piece of pith wood,—Cassier's Magazine. Coldest Known Liquid.

Lively Fights for Register of the Land Office, Public Printer and Circuit Judge.

The new General Assembly, which convenes January 13th, at noon, besides elect-ing its own officers, will have to choose several of the State officers elective by that branch of the government.

The House will choose a Speaker and clerk, sergeant-at-arms, two doorkeepers, several committee clerks and pages.

The Senate will elect a clerk, a doorkeeper, sergeant-at-arms, librarian and pages, and also a president pro tempore. In the House Speaker Ryan and Clerk John W. Williams will have no opposition for re-election. Sergeant-at-Arms Johnston and Doorkeepers Arthur O. Sullivan and P. E. Lipscomb will be reelected, probably without dissenting votes. So far as known, but one new committee clerk will be chosen, and that Mr. Harry L. Watson, of this city.

In the Senate Mr. Wickham, of Han-william Wilson. Docreeper S. II. Donald is a candidate for another office and will probably not stand for re-election as doorkeeper.

The great struggle will come over the nominations of the majority cancus for register of the land office and superintendent of public printing. There will be no contests for auditor and second auditor. Besides these a circuit judge is to be chosen for the fourteenth circuit to fill a vacancy.

For register of the land office there are four candidates in the field. They are Colonel John W. Richardson, incumbent Mr. Samuel M. Donald, now doorkeeper of the Senate; Mr. J. N. Brenaman, formerly assistant clork of the Constitutional Convention and of the Revision Committees of that body and of the General Assembly, and Hon. S. M. Newhouse, of Culpeper, a member of the present House.

For superintendent of public printing Captain J. H. O Bannon is opposed by Mr. Horace A. Hawkins, a well known Richmond printer and nowpaper writer. For the circuit judgeship ex-Senator Manly H. Burnes, Senator D. Gardiner Tyler and others have been urged. Mr. Roger Gregory, Mr. Norvelle L. Henley and Mr. C. W. Roblinson, the last named of Newport News, have been suggested for the place.

Several other State officers, formerly known as basement officers, are now elective by the people instead of by the General Assembly, as heretofore. They are State treasurer, secretary of the Commonwealth, commissioner of agriculture and superintendent of public instruction.

The General Assembly will also reflect Senator John W. Daniel for another term of sky years from March 4, 1905, in the United State Senate. His election is now a matter of form.
